Re: Derrick Meyler

To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is in response to your communication received in our office on September 16, 2010, regarding validation on a student loan account. I am responding on behalf of Chase Student Loan Servicing, LLC ("Chase").

After careful review, we were able to locate an account at Chase with the information provided. Please contact the current servicer or guarantor as Chase no longer services this account.

We strive to pursue excellence and always want to assist our customers. We encourage our customers to contact us with any issues of concern regarding their student loan account. If you have any questions or need additional assistance, please contact one of the below listed numbers to reach our Customer Care Department.

Sincerely,

Customer Care Research

be 6 months the most before I get back credit.

Furthermore, he said that my land, cars and personal injury case(s) will not be considered because I am disabled. Mr. Tatis did not disclose the information to me and he has misrepresented and ill-advised me in this Chapter 7 matter. I am asking that you dismiss this matter because my Tatis is knowingly took advantage of the fact that I am "disabled." Under the law it is called undue influence when someone knowingly takes advantage of the lack of knowledge of the other and uses tactics to his or her advantage.

I will pay my debtors from my "settlement" or whatever monies I receive after the "trials". Creditors that will be served:
